

---

---

Migration and Inclusion: Chance and Challenges for Our Future

Presentation by Federica & Stefania

---

This is our district, Bolognina, an historical working class district where now live the highest percentage of migrants in Bologna.

A photograph of two men standing in front of a fruit and vegetable stall. The stall is filled with various fruits and vegetables, including bananas, apples, oranges, and leafy greens. The man on the left is wearing a dark jacket and dark pants, and the man on the right is wearing a black and white jacket and light-colored pants. The stall has shelves and hanging displays of produce. The background shows a white wall and a window.

Awais

Sajid

"We have three children, they were born in Italy, but also if they feel Italian they aren't because of the Italian law on citizenship"

Sara

"We met in Florence six years ago because in Bologna there is no place where you can meet other Peruvians"

Andres

---

About Migration and Inclusion in Italy

5 people interviewed → 1 person decided not to answer;

Migration → “the house never be Italy”- “In some places people look at you in a strange way”- “ Also if you feel italian, you never are considered as an italian citizen”

Inclusion → “What does it mean?”

---